

UN-REDD
PROGRAMME

The United Nations Collaborative Programme on Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and Forest Degradation in Developing Countries

Over one billion people, including Indigenous Peoples, rely directly or indirectly on forests for their livelihoods. National REDD+ strategies should be simple, flexible and developed in a participative and transparent manner taking into due account of the interests of Indigenous Peoples and local communities.

Engagement

The UN-REDD Programme is a partnership between FAO, UNDP and UNEP. It supports developing country efforts to reduce emissions from deforestation and forest degradation - commonly known as "REDD".